SHARELIFE

Through ShareLife, you are the light in someone's darkest moment

Sarah arrived at the doors of one of the Catholic Family Services agencies you support through ShareLife on a desperate afternoon with her baby cradled tightly against her chest. Fleeing an abusive home, she had nothing but the clothes on her back and a fragile hope that someone might help. Because of your generous spirit, Sarah and her baby found the safety they so desperately needed when shelters were overwhelmed.

Your kindness provided the essentials to care for her baby, the counselling to begin healing, and the support to rebuild their lives. Now she and her baby are safe, cared for, and starting to look toward a brighter future. Yet, domestic violence is on the rise and countless others like Sarah are still in need. Your compassion has the power to change many more lives. It is because of people like you that their stories do not end in fear but begin again with love.

Thus far we have raised $17,268.00 toward our goal of $31,000. Please give at the parish using a ShareLife envelope, online through our parish website, or at sharelife.org/donate.

Message for Mother's Day

10 May 2026

His Eminence Frank Cardinal Leo
Metropolitan Archbishop of Toronto

Dear Brothers and Sisters,

May Jesus and Mary be in your souls.

As we celebrate Mother's Day, we welcome this opportunity to pause and give thanks for the women who gave us life, nurtured us, and helped us become who we are. Mothers play a crucial role in our society and our Church. Religiously and spiritually, they contribute so very much to shape our Christian identity (cf. 2 Tim 1:5). We live in a pluralistic, multicultural and complex society where the Christian faith can no longer be assumed or simply inherited from the surrounding culture, where Christian ideals and truths are presented as one among many. In this setting the formation of Christian identity is of paramount importance (Rom. 12:2; Familiaris Consortio, 17).

The reality of who we are in Christ is multi-faceted, and at face value many mothers may feel helpless when faced with the onslaught of never-ending influences upon their children. To those mothers I want you to know and remember that long before your child encounters secular social media, harmful trends or ideologies, your child experiences your love, trust, forgiveness, and belonging within your family (Amoris Laetitia, 174). These early experiences shape the heart and imagination in ways that make faith intelligible later in life. When a child learns what love is through the patience of a mother, the words of the Scripture about God's love begin to make sense (1 Jn 4:7-11). When a child experiences mercy and reconciliation at home, the message of Christ's forgiveness is no longer abstract (Is 66:13).

While the concept of the domestic church expresses a profound truth – it is the place where the faith is first shaped, practiced, and transmitted – many forget that these experiences are formative of identity (LG, 11; CCC 1655-1658). Christian identity is the framework through which a young person begins to interpret the world in the light of faith (Christifideles Laici, 8,28). In a secular culture where identity is frequently presented as something fluid or self-created, children are encouraged to define themselves according to personal preference, achievement, or social recognition. Yet the Christian vision of identity is very different, it is far more profound and holistic (Amoris Laetitia, 56). At the heart of the Gospel lies the conviction that each person is first and foremost a beloved child of God (Augustine, Confessions I,1). Our identity is not invented; it is received as a gift (CCC 1700).

Mothers often become the first witnesses to this truth. When a child is loved not for what he or she accomplishes but simply for who they are, a profound lesson is learned (Redemptor Hominis, 10). The child begins to understand that dignity does not depend on success, popularity, or performance. This experience of love prepares the heart to receive the Christian proclamation that every human person is created in the image of God and redeemed by Christ (Athanasius, De Incarnatione, 54).

Our Christian identity helps to navigate the tensions between faith and culture, where Christian values are sometimes misunderstood or dismissed (cf. Familiaris Consortio, 17). The formation of Christian identity often happens through example and experience rather than argument and persuasion (Matt 5:16). Children may forget many words, but the memory of a mother who trusted God in difficult moments can remain for a lifetime.

For Christians, the ultimate model of motherhood is found in Mary, Mother of Jesus. Her Magnificat recalled her “soul” (nephes), her very being, her very identity. It was her “spirit” (ruach), the very core of her being that gave us her fiat (Lk 1:38; 46-47). Mary provides a powerful example of how our truest self, indeed our very identity, is found in God’s will, truth and provident plan for us.

On this Mother’s Day, and each day of the year, our gratitude goes far beyond appreciation for the many sacrifices mothers make. We recognize their essential role in helping us discover who we truly are. In a world where identity is very often presented as uncertain or fragmented, mothers provide the first and most enduring witness to the truth that every human life is a gift and that every person is called into a relationship with God. I give thanks to all the mothers in the Archdiocese of Toronto; I pray for you and your families and ask that you continue to pray for me.

Happy and Blessed Mother’s Day to all our mothers.

Message for the March for Life
14 May 2026
His Eminence Frank Cardinal Leo
Metropolitan Archbishop of Toronto

Dear Brothers and Sisters,

May Jesus and Mary be in your souls.

I am writing to you on the occasion of the March for Life taking place on 14 May 2026 in Ottawa. The theme of this year's annual march is "Follow Me" (Mt 4:19-20), taken from the Gospel of St. Matthew which recounts Jesus' call to the first disciples. The call of our Lord is ever present in the busyness and chaos of our world; this year's theme reminds us that amidst the cacophony of voices and ideologies vying for our attention, Our Lord's deepest desire is for us to live out of our relationship with him, to freely, joyfully, courageously and generously follow him. As faithful proliferators from across the country prepare to meet on Parliament Hill, I would like to encourage you and reflect together on the witness we are to bear to the inviolable dignity of human life.

One of the aspects that is striking about the call of Simon (St. Peter) and St. Andrew, and a little later, St. James and St. John, is the immediacy and totality of their initial response. Of course, their discipleship was not perfect, and later we hear how they failed; nevertheless, they answered the call, strived to be loyal and loving. The call of Christ is not a suggestion among many; it is a summons that demands a response of the whole person – mind, heart, and will (Mt 22:37; CCC 142-143). To follow Christ is to entrust one's life to him as the definitive truth about God and fullest revelation of our own humanity (Gaudium et Spes 22; Jn 14:6). If we extrapolate from the first disciples (their call, life with Christ, and mission to the world), to our present situation, we quickly see that failures, setbacks, and obstacles are part and parcel of what it means to both live in a pluralistic society and be fully committed to Our Lord and his Gospel.

Furthermore, the call of Christ does not diminish human freedom; it fulfills it (Veritatis Splendor, 41; cf. St. Augustine, Tractates on John, 41.8). To follow him is not to abandon reason or compassion, but to allow both to be purified and elevated by truth (Fides et Ratio, 7). Jesus reveals that authentic freedom is found not in self-assertion detached from truth, but in self-gift rooted in love (Evangelium Vitae, 96; CCC 1733). To follow our Lord is an invitation to see reality as God sees it – especially the dignity of human life – to banish false gods, self-deception, and live life to its fullest (cf. Jn 10:10).

This has profound implications when considering issues such as abortion, in vitro fertilization (IVF), artificial conception and euthanasia. Each of these reflects a broader cultural tendency to place human control at the centre of life's beginning and end (Evangelium Vitae, 22). Abortion asserts a right to decide whether a life is worthy to continue (CCC 2270; Didache, 2, 2). IVF, while often motivated by a deep desire for children, treats human life as a product rather than a gift that is received (Donum Vitae, II.B.5), and tears asunder the miracle of life (cf. Maximus, Ambiguum, 42). Artificial birth control denies a crucial dimension of the very profound meaning of married sexuality and harms the unity in which the couple is called to nourish as it undermines the total, mutual gift of two persons in its integrity, separating, as it were, the unitive and procreative ends of marriage. Euthanasia (MAID) presents death as a solution to suffering, suggesting that some lives are no longer worth living (Iura et Bona, II; CCC 2277).

Our presence at the March for Life in Ottawa is a sign that we stand firmly, yet compassionately, for the sacrosanct dignity of every human person from conception to natural death (Evangelium Vitae, 57). It is to affirm the fundamental truth that life is not ours to create or destroy at will, but a sacred trust given to us by God. This stance is not merely a set of prohibitions; it is a coherent vision of love and true freedom – one that recognizes each human being as willed for his or her own sake and called to live in God (Gaudium et Spes 24).

Like the first disciples, we are asked to leave our “nets” – those attachments, assumptions, and cultural comforts – that prevent us from fully embracing the truth (Mk 1:17-18). In a pluralistic society as ours, this may involve standing apart from prevailing norms, sometimes at great personal cost (Rom 12:2). But it also opens the way to a deeper participation in Christ’s mission: to be “fishers of people” (Mt 4:19) drawing others not by coercion, but by the radiant witness of truth lived in love (Dignitatis Humanae 1).

In closing, I would like to thank those who participate in this year’s March for Life, and the many volunteers and who prophetically witness to the love of God, answering his call, and giving a voice to the weakest in our society. Your determination, advocacy and fidelity are an inspiring example to us all. To those unable to attend, please pray for those who will be in Ottawa. May the Blessed Mother protect you under her mantle on May 14 and through her powerful, maternal intercession may you stand firm in your courage and conviction as you give witness to the lifegiving love of God. Be assured of my prayers and support.
